To the Junior Classes

Washington, D. C. Dec. 5, 1905.

To the Members of the Junior Class of the Department of Law, George Washington University.

Gentlemen:—

At a recent meeting of the Junior Class of Columbian College the undersigned were appointed a committee to bring the following plan to the attention of yourselves and of the Junior Class of the other departments of this university, and to request your co-operation in its execution should it meet with your approval.

The plan is for the combined Junior Classes of our University to publish a small hand-book similar to those issued by the Junior Class or some other class organization of most of the colleges and universities to day. The hand-book would be small, neatly bound, book of the size and character of a memorandum book, and with sufficient blank pages to answer the purpose of such. It should contain all possible information relative to our University—giving the rules and character of each of our organizations—debating, athletic, social, etc.; a list of fraternities in our institution with their addresses, information as to the facilities for study and employment in Washington; and information as to whom to apply for admission to each of our departments. These are, of necessity, meagre specifications in regard to the make up of such a book and are mentioned merely to give an idea of its character. A board appointed to carry this plan into execution would, of course, settle on all these details. The book would have to be published with moneys raised and contributed by the Junior Class of the several departments of our University without any idea of return beyond the slight assistance it would be to our institution in her rapid progress to a position among the first universities of the land. The purpose of this plan would be to distribute these hand-books among the preparatory schools and colleges and throughout those sections of the country from which the bulk of our student body is drawn, and also in such directions as might seem to offer new fields of influence to George Washington. A disposition to extend our fame and influence has made itself apparent in our faculty and student body in the last two years and the foregoing plan has appealed to our Class as an effective means of furthering this movement. It is our hope that should this plan be approved by yourselves and the other Junior Classes of the University, this may be a precedent which succeeding Junior Classes shall follow and make a custom.

Hoping that this plan will receive your early and favorable consideration, we are, for the Junior Class of the Columbian College,

Yours very truly,

Wm. K. West,
W. H. Lawton
Committee.

The Athletic Council

As a result of a petition signed by ten members of the football team of '04, the Athletic Council reconsidered its decision of November 28th in relation to awarding sweaters and insignia to the football men. As requested by the petition, the Council added the name of Mr. James Fields to the list of men eligible for the "W," and the Secretary was instructed to inform Mr. Fields of this action.

The Athletic Council wishes to recommend the following amendments to the constitution of the Athletic Association:

First. That the constitution be amended to admit the Alumni as members of the Association.

Second. That the Alumni members be required to pay a stated annual fee, and in consideration thereof to receive complimentary tickets to all contests conducted by the George Washington University Athletic Association.

It was further decided to award to Messrs. Heflebower, Smith, and Price, assistant managers of the football team, buff caps with the monogram "G. W. F. B." in blue. Manager Lowe was instructed to purchase the caps and present them.

Canoe Club

The Canoe Club, which was organized last July by some energetic members of the University, is busy laying plans for enlargement and permanent organization. The club expects to be recognized by the University Council as the official organization of its kind connected with the University. Applications for membership should be sent to Fleet-Captain D. G. Sutton, 921 19th street, Northwest, as soon as possible.

Glee Club

The election of officers for the Glee Club was held Wednesday, November 30, with the following result:

Business Manager, W. K. West.

Treasurer, H. F. Learch.

Librarian, C. W. Whitmore.

The officers, with Mr. Roland Roderic, the new director, form a committee having entire charge of the club.

An offer for a concert at Hillsborough, Va., has been received and the club will probably go there during the holidays. One of the entertainments promised to the boys if they go is a bird hunt on the day following the concert.

Dramatic Club

Beginning with January, the Dramatic Club expects to give a performance once a month at the Soldiers' Home. If successful there, the performance will be repeated in University Hall. Of course, this will cost something. Mr. Hickman is not going to instruct us and give us his time for nothing. But the more who will interest themselves in this, the less will be the cost to each.

Here is a chance to get what is practically a course in expression and elocution for a ridiculously small sum. The club dues are not heavy, and if more would join, they could be made lighter. At the end of the year only those who have taken part in these small plays may try for parts in a Shakespearean drama, to be given at one of the theaters just before commencement week.

We want to see everyone in the University who is interested in dramatics come out and join the club, and do so at once.

The Orchestra

In spite of many obstacles we have succeeded in getting a collection of musicians in the University who will do credit to our Alma Mater. But we need more. There was a most successful rehearsal Monday night at 7:30, and it is hoped that these rehearsals will continue throughout the season, so that at the end of the year the orchestra will have become an established fact.

However, it must be recognized that, although we are bound to succeed at any rate, yet in order to become a still greater success, the orchestra must have the support of the whole university. This support is not a financial support as may be supposed, but every man who has any musical inclination and who plays an instrument suitable for an orchestra, must come to rehearsals.

Our first meeting has been most satisfactory. Not in point of numbers but in regard to the finish and elegance which Professor Christian brought about through his intimate knowledge of managing musical organizations.

People who have never had the pleasure and enjoyment of taking part in such musical affairs have certainly missed a great deal. Let them now come out and show their capabilities so that they may help along the orchestra.

Those desiring to enroll as candidates for positions in the orchestra will hand in their names to Secretary Schoenfeld, Room 15, College Building.

Kappa Alpha

On Friday evening December 2nd the home of the Kappa Alpha fraternity at 1931 K St., N. W. was the scene of their most beautiful dance given this year. They have given quite a number of smokers and dances this year but this one was by far the most enjoyable of the season.

The house was decorated in the fraternity colors, Crimson and Gold, especially for the occasion and altogether produced a beautiful effect. This fraternity has occupied their present home for six years and is noted for its hospitality.

Delta Tau Delta

The third initiation and banquet of the Gamma Eta Chapter of Delta Tau Delta was held on Saturday evening last.

At the initiation, which was held early in the evening at the chapter house, 1902 H. street, the following men were taken into the fraternity:

Morgan Royce, George L. Whitford, William Hamilton Smith, James M. Williamson, Joseph Franklin Brandenburg, Henry Palmer Alden, John J. McCabe, of Washington; Albert Russell Calder, Pennsylvania; Tom W. McNamee, South Dakota, and Irwin S. Pepper, Iowa.

After the initiation the party adjourned to the New Willard, where the banquet was held. Mr. James G. Shibley, Columbian '04 acted as toastmaster and called for the following responses:

"Delta Taus Welcome," John A. Lee; "The Initiates Bow," William Hamilton Smith; "The True Delta Spirit," Joseph Leicester Atkins; "The Duties of an Active," A. Bruce Bielaski; "The New Alumni Chapter," Percy

C. Adams; "Recollections," George Horton; "Delta Tau Delta in the South," Stuart C. Leake; "Past, Present, and Future," Carney N. Layne.

In addition to these responses were made by W. S. Couch, Dr. S. H. Stearns, Phillip Buettner and Benjamin G. Steenerson. There were about fifty members present, including many alumni representing a large number of universities and colleges throughout the country.

Psi Omega.

On Wednesday evening, November 23rd, the Psi Omega Dental Fraternity gave their Thanksgiving dance at Mrs. Dyer's Hall.

The various departments were well represented, and among those present were representatives of the leading Fraternities connected with the University.

After refreshments were served the guests disbanded, all voting the evening most enjoyably spent.

Classical Club

The second meeting of the Classical Club for the present session was held at the home of its president, Professor Carroll, Saturday evening, November 26th.

Professor Pease exhibited a most interesting collection of Roman marbles and antiques, and gave a very interesting description of the manner in which many of them were obtained during his stay in Rome. Professors Lorenzen and Painter followed Professor Pease with a few remarks on the value of Latin in law and philosophy.

Dr. Horton, former U. S. Consul at Athens, entertained his hearers with an episode of Athenian life.

Miss Beare and Miss Ellis, of the Florence School for young ladies, spoke of their visits to Rome and they were followed by a few words from Miss Perkins.

The club then informally adjourned to enjoy the generous hospitality of the hostess of the evening, Mrs. Carroll, who was assisted at the refreshment table by several of the young ladies of the club.

Did you save your quarter? A great many did and a great many did not

Columbian College

Arrangements for the much talked of "Senior Reception" during the Christmas holidays are now well under way and the occasion, in being the most enjoyable of them all, bids fair to occupy its usual place among the social events of the college year.

This holiday fete is looked forward to with much pleasure by all who have attended its celebration in former years and as this year it will surpass all previous efforts, the invitations will be much coveted.

The occasion for the celebration is a reception to the faculty by the Senior Class, which in itself would insure a delightful evening, but to supplement this an unusually attractive entertainment is being arranged, as well as dancing for those who care for it. Light refreshments will be served throughout the evening.

The committee in charge of the affair is as follows:

Chairman, Miss Amy L. Wagon, Decorations.
Mr. Frederick W. Albert, Reception.
Mr. Walter J. Bennett, Printing.
Miss Augusta M. De Forrest, Refreshments.
Mr. E. V. Dunstan, Floor.
Mr. W. F. Summy, Entertainment.

Friday evening, December 30th, has been chosen as the date and the sweet aroma of the Yuletide decorations so fitting that season seems already in our nostrils as we anticipate it.

The Junior Class of Columbian College held an interesting meeting Friday, December 2nd, at 6:30, with the president, Mr. Collins, presiding. The committee which so successfully arranged for the Thanksgiving dance, made its report, and was tendered a vote of thanks by the class for its efforts. The next social affair of the class was discussed, and a committee will be appointed in a few days to make the arrangements for it.

Mr. West made the suggestion that the Juniors of the College take the initiative in a plan which is followed in many other colleges—that of issuing in an attractive form a bulletin of general information about the University, to be distributed among the students of the preparatory schools from which our membership is largely drawn. This has been tried elsewhere with good results in the way of attracting a larger student body, and if the cooperation of all the Junior classes of the University departments can be secured, should be equally beneficial here. Steps will be taken at once to ascertain the cost of such a publication, and the matter will be submitted to the remaining Junior classes in the near future.

The regular business meeting of the class will hereafter be held the first Monday of every month at 6:30 P. M. in West Hall. There is certain to be something before each meeting which will be of interest to the members, and the attendance of each and every Junior is urgently requested.

The Freshman Class of Columbian College held its regular monthly meeting Thursday, November 31, at 6:30 P. M., in West Hall. Owing to the absence of Mr. French, Miss Evans, the First Vice-President, acted as chairman. The attendance was small, hardly thirty members being present. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the Secretary, Miss Field, and Mr. Hersey, the Treasurer, reported that the class was financially in good condition. The resignation of Mr. French as class president was read and was accepted by the class with regret. The objection was made by Mr. Gates that the class had as yet no constitution and that therefore there were no legal officers. The class sustaining his objection, Mr. Hersey moved that the chair appoint a committee of three to present a constitution for the consideration of the class. The chair appointed Mr. Gates, Miss Moyer and Mr. Van Vleck. This committee presented a constitution which was adopted with a few amendments. The class then proceeded to the election of officers.

The election resulted as follows:

President, Mr. Frank West.
First Vice-President, Miss Evans.
Second Vice-President, Mr. Van Vleck.
Secretary, Miss Field.
Treasurer, Mr. Hersey.

The election was in every way satisfactory, Mr. West, the former vice-President, being elected president and the other officers remaining as before. Under the new constitution the meetings will be held on the last Wednesday in every month. Every college Freshman is urged to present his name to the Secretary in order that he may be enrolled as an active member of the class.

Enosinian Society

The regular meeting of the Enosinian Debating Society was called to order at 8 o'clock Friday, December 2nd, in West Hall. Miss Kate Smith was appointed extemporaneous speaker, with a subject which had more of a personal application than is usual—"People who make jokes about Alexandria"—and was certainly not of a very serious nature.

The society elected to membership Miss Amy Warn, Miss Jennie Moyer, and Miss Edgarda McMullen. Miss Moyer was initiated. This brings the membership of the Enosinian to twenty-four, a great improvement over last year.

The newspapers, the "Enosinian Bee" and the "News," were read by their editors, Miss Rideout and Mr. Van Vleck respectively, and were exceedingly entertaining.

The question for debate for the meeting was "Resolved, That limited suffrage in the South is inexpedient," one which contained many opportunities for arousing ill feeling. Great credit is due to the debaters for the skill with which they avoided any such difficulties. Both sides, the affirmative Mr. Solyom and Mr. Chappell, and the negative Miss Rideout and Mr. Leighton, presented strong arguments in a convincing manner, but the decision of the society was for the negative side on both the merits of the question and the argument.

The committee on the Washington and Lee debate reported through its chairman, Mr. Solyom, that the Literary Society of Washington and Lee had accepted the rules submitted to them by Enosinian, with the added provision that the debate should be made an annual one between the two societies, and further that they had submitted a question, which, in the judgment of the committee could not be accepted. The reasons for this will be clearly seen when it is known that the question proposed was "Resolved, That national laws should be enacted governing marriage and divorce." The members sustained the opinion of the committee, and directed them to enter into further negotiations with Washington and Lee, with a view to having another subject given.

The debate at the next meeting will be on the question "Resolved, That the Philippine Islands should become a territory of the United States," with the speakers as follows: Affirmative side, Miss Kate Smith and Mr. Sams; negative side, Mr. Brown and Mr. Schoenfeld.

The election of officers by the society, which takes place every six meetings, will be held at the meeting after next.

D. R. I.

The long heralded D. R. I. dance is now a thing of the past, only a remembrance, but such a one. The two coaches drove up to the College at 7 P. M. last Friday evening, and although a cold wind was blowing, and a slight drizzle had set in, the following were hardy enough to make the start:

Misses Cochran, Birch, Miller, MacMullen, Keene, Zirkle, Auerbach, Hurd, Weyard, and the three Carter sisters, and Messrs. Taylor, Keene, Sniffen, Wallis, Yeomans, Cull, Robinette, Newbold, Watts, Wilkie, Fogler, Allen, Sullian, Grumwell and the host of the evening, Mr. George Saegmuller, '06 College. Professor George N. Henning was the guest of honor.

The four-horse teams found the slippery streets very hard to travel, especially on the hills, but the jolly crowd did not mind any delay or slow progress, and their way through old Georgetown was marked by continuous horn-blowing, shouts, songs and an occasional "G. W." or "Ax" yell, just to prove the literary quality of the gathering. Once into Virginia, there was no one hear and appreciate the yells, and the vocal performance was confined to all the known and unknown songs and tunes that such a party naturally produces, so that the time slipped away very rapidly, and soon the coaches turned in at the magnificent home of Mr. Saegmuller. Here all tumbled out and rushed into the house, where Mrs. Saegmuller was waiting with a big pot of coffee, to take the chill out of those who had been too sedate to keep warm by singing and cheering.

Three musicians had been brought from town, and these soon "got busy," and stayed busy, except for the intermission, until the time to depart had come—all too soon. The busses were loaded and with three hearty cheers for the Saegmullers, the happy crowd started home without a thought of the rain outside, which was freezing as fast as it fell.

The ride home was exciting in spots, when the coaches would slide on a slippery down grade, but everything was passed safely and at Thirty-six and M streets, the coaches were abandoned for the electric cars, and the party broke up, vowing that in spite of wind, rain, hail, sleet and cold, they had all had the jolliest kind of an evening.

The Co Eds

On Wednesday, November 30, at 6:30 P. M. there was held in West Hall a mass meeting of the girls of the University, for the purpose of forming themselves into an organized body with a view to developing their interests. Miss Freeby occupied the chair and spoke briefly of the objects of the organization: namely, to bring the girls in closer contact, to encourage unity of action and to foster University spirit.

The constitution which had been drawn up by a representative committee was then read, and upon a unanimous vote for its adoption the "Women's League of the George Washington University" took its place among the College organizations.

The meeting then proceeded to the election of officers and the following were chosen to serve for the ensuing year:

President, Miss McPherson.

Second Vice-President, Miss Taylor.

Third Vice-President, Miss Sherman.

Fourth Vice-President, Miss Evans.

Treasurer, Miss Burgdorf.

Recording Secretary, Miss McCleary.

Corresponding Secretary, Miss White.

The League extends a most hearty invitation to all women taking work in the University, to become members. It is the intention of the League to give a number of social functions during the year, that the members may become better acquainted, and the good-fellowship among them may be increased.

On Thursday, December 1, at the noon hour, there was held in West Hall the initial meeting of the Girls' Glee Club. There were twenty-five girls present, about one-half of the number in attendance at the University. Miss Taylor, the temporary chairman, spoke of the bright outlook for a glee club, after which the meeting proceeded to the election of officers. Miss Taylor was chosen director of the club and Miss McMillan treasurer. It was decided to hold weekly rehearsals at the noon hour on Thursday. Work is to begin in earnest on Thursday, so that all those interested will be present.

At University Assembly on Wednesday, Dr. Needham announced that the Tower Room had been fitted up with some apparatus for a girls' gymnasium. The girls hail this announcement with delight and since then have been making frequent trips up the winding stairs to enjoy their new privilege. They wish to take the opportunity of thanking the faculty for the ready response with which their request for athletic privileges has met.

On Tuesday, November 29, Solicitor-General and Mrs. Hoyt formally introduced their daughter, Miss Elinor Hoyt into the social circles of Washington. Mrs. Hoyt was assisted by a number of the cabinet ladies and by several of this season's debutantes. Miss Hoyt is a very charming and attractive girl, and promises to take a prominent part in the social life of the Capital.

OLIVER L. BELL, PRINTER,
1808 PENNA. AVE. N. W.

The Hospital, or Students' Ball, as it is now called, comes off tonight. Once more we must urge upon the students of the University the necessity of having them support this affair. Some years ago the Lady Managers of the hospital pledged themselves to raise a certain amount of money for the fitting up of new rooms, etc., in the hospital. Most of this amount has been raised, and the Board seeks by means of this ball to get the rest together. It is money that is needed badly for the support of the hospital.

For this reason our student body, and especially the members of the Medical Department, who have this interest much closer at heart, should make every effort to come. The student attendance last year was good and there was no room for complaint as to it. We must not allow it to fall, however, this year. Outside support is assured and the ball will without doubt be the largest and most successful of the year. You cannot afford to miss it. Let us see everyone there.

The Juniors of the College have undertaken a project which is reflective of the truest interest in the University and the most watchful enterprise. It is that their associate classman shall join in the publication for the preparatory and night schools of the whole country of a hand-book displaying our courses, our advantages and our university aim.

The idea is not new to American universities, but it is new to George Washington and the District of Columbia. In this latter sense it impresses us as admirably consonant with the spirit of the University. It signifies we think, that our student body is alert to the good example of other institutions, not falsely superior to adopting that example when for George Washington's good, and energetic to parallel the example for George Washington's advantage.

We have no disposition to confuse the purpose of these Juniors with suggestions. The men who have carried this purpose, if only to the threshold of fulfillment can be trusted to carry it on to practical execution if the faculty and University interests so suggest. But we may hope to co-operate with them in directing the attention of the other Juniors to the responsibility which rests upon them. If the project fails, it will fail through lack of co-operation. If the project succeeds, it will succeed because the whole body of Juniors is united in its support. This is the situation as it spreads itself before the Junior classmen. They are in a general sense the University's strongest reliance. We do not fear they will fail here.

The boxes in the hallways of the building are for the use of all.—They are intended for copy, subscriptions, suggestions, etc. Your copy for publication on Wednesday must be in by ten o'clock Tuesday morning.

Medical Notes

The physiological laboratory has the very best and most approved apparatus, and our "home for destitute frogs" has all the comforts of a modern apartment house. An excellent course has been laid out, and the students seem to be taking considerable interest in it, and it may be possible for some of them to undertake original work after the regular session ends. Dr. Charles S. White has charge of the laboratory work, and is assisted by Dr. T. H. Halloway, Dr. H. R. Elliott, and Dr. L. H. Taylor. Dr. White is a graduate of our Medical Department, and has done post-graduate work at Harvard University.

The Utile Dulci Societas.

The Utile Dulci Societas was entertained at the home of a member, Mr. W. R. Barnesby, in the Brunswick, Thursday evening, December 1.

This was the regular meeting for the semi-annual election of officers which resulted in the election of the following corps:

President, W. R. Barnesby.

Vice-President, E. T. Stephenson.

Secretary, C. R. Wallace,

Treasurer, H. H. Stout.

Historian, W. V. Levy.

Executive Committee, A. C. Garton, C. F. Bower, and J. R. Biggs.

This was replaced by another very pleasant part of the program, a collation during the enjoyment and uninterrupted participation of which the history of the first six months of the society's existence was read by the historian, Mr. T. H. Legg.

Those present at roll call were: Messrs. W. R. Barnesby, J. R. Biggs, C. F. Bower, F. E. Frazier, A. C. Carton, H. V. Johnson, T. H. Legg, W. V. Levy, E. T. Stephenson, H. I. Stout, W. J. G. Thomas, C. R. Wallace, and D. G. Willets.

Those absent at roll call were Messrs. H. A. Meyer, H. I. Stout, and L. M. Coster.

The University Congress

A resolution to limit the regular army to a maximum of 60,000 men was discussed by the University Congress at its regular session in University Hall Saturday evening. Familiarity with the subject was displayed by none except the four members assigned to the subject. The topic was, however, one which lent itself to the style of discussion adopted by the organization. The two members from Tennessee being particularly adept in repartee and possessing a faculty of quick witted confession and avoidance, afforded the participants in the debate models of that style of debate. The member from Georgia, with a penchant for the character of public speaking modeled on a famous eulogy of Duluth, succeeded in in a speech ordinarily dangerous to attempt. The Congress now has an enrollment sufficient to insure a satisfactory attendance at each meeting, while the interest and ability of the members augurs a successful year. The debate scheduled for next Saturday evening is expected to provoke an unusually warm discussion. The resolution follows: "Resolved, That a committee of five members be appointed to examine and report on the most advisable means for reducing the Congressional representation of such States as are liable thereto under the provisions of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution." The speakers assigned are: Affirmative, Mr. Nixon, of New Hampshire, and Mr. Riddell, of Washington; negative, Mr. Everett, of Maryland, and Mr. Shelton, of Mississippi. Appended are the briefs.

The penalty prescribed by the Fourteenth Amendment should be exacted, because

I. It has been earned.

a. If objectionable it should be repealed.

b. While unrepealed, it should be enforced.

II. Its exaction would prevent negro disfranchisement and that should be prevented, because

a. It does not accord with our theory of government.

b. It blunts the moral sense of the nation.

c. Pollutes the stream of politics.

d. It creates contempt for the Constitution and for law.

e. It denies the negro a powerful incentive to rise.

f. It deprives him of the educative influence of the ballot.

g. It results in the passage of intolerable laws.

h. It is a prime cause of race amalgamation.

i. It is wrong.

k. It forms a terrible menace for the future.

Virginia Debate

The second preliminary will be held in University Hall Wednesday evening, December 14, 8 o'clock sharp.

Each speaker will be allowed fifteen (15) minutes within which to present his argument on the side indicated opposite his name below:

Mr. Badger,	Affirmative
Mr. Flowers,	Negative
Mr. Malcolm,	Affirmative
Mr. Sams,	Affirmative
Mr. Tellier,	Negative
Mr. Rhodes,	Affirmative
Mr. Marine,	Affirmative
Mr. Bone,	Affirmative
Mr. Woodwell,	Affirmative

Election in First Year Law

Last Thursday the First Year Law Class held its election for permanent officers for the year. The meeting having been called to order, some rousing nominating speeches were made. The one made by Mr. Gammon seemed to be the most convincing and on the second ballot, by a comfortable majority, R. I. Moore, of Tennessee, was elected president, J. M. Burris, of Kansas, was made Vice president, and R. N. Crane, of New Jersey, Treasurer.

Within a few days, the class will elect the remaining officer and adopt a constitution.

Two second Year men were accused of stuffing the ballot box, and were gently escorted to the door by an honorary body guard.

Alumni Notes

A pretty wedding took place Tuesday evening at the Metropolitan Presbyterian Church, when Miss Clara Viola Trow, was given in marriage to Mr. Lester Morton Holt, of Brooklyn, Wisconsin. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George H. Bailey, of Ferrisburg, Vermont, uncle of the bride, assisted by the pastor, Rev. Albert Evans, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Gordon W. Trow, and is a very attractive and popular young lady. Mr. Holt formerly resided in Washington, but now has an important position in the Geological Survey and is located in Nevada. The church was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and white chrysanthemums. The bride entered with her brother, Mr. Walter Gordon Trow, by whom she was given away. She was preceded by Miss Elizabeth W. Wilson as flower girl and by Miss Bertha Sara Paisley as maid of honor, and was met at the altar by the groom, attended by his best man, Mr. Edward C. Thompson. As the bridal party entered the church Miss Mary Edith Pickering sang the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" and during the ceremony Miss Jessie B. F. Grant played "Oh Promise Me." The bride was daintily gowned in Point d'Alençon trimmed with valenciennes over chiffon and taffata. Her tulle veil was caught under a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. The maid of honor wore Nile green silk mousseline over taffata and carried La France roses. The little flower girl was dressed in pink silk and carried a basket of pink roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaids were Miss Alice Gertrude Trow, sister of the bride; Miss Mary W. Dulin, Miss Sara Louise Yaeckel, and Miss Lulu McNally. They wore pink silk mousseline over taffata and carried bouquets of pink roses. The groomsmen were Mr.

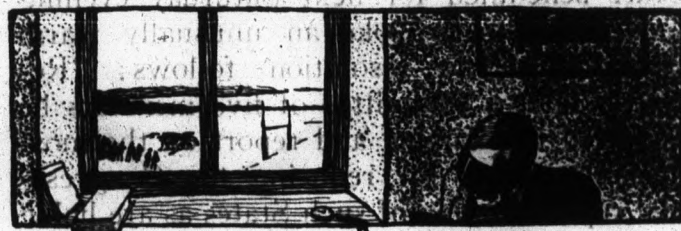

Clarence H. Green, Mr. W. Frank Summy, Mr. James A. Brearley, and Mr. Henry E. Hughes. Mr. and Mrs. Holt left for Brooklyn, Wisconsin, Colorado Springs and other western points and will be at home after December 10 at Hazen, Nevada. The bride's going-away gown was of black panne cheviot with imported hat to match. Miss Trow entertained the bridal party at her home on Capitol Hill on Monday evening and an opportunity was given to view the numerous presents of silver, cut glass, etc.

Mr. Holt received the degree of B. S. in 1900 and C. E. in 1902, Corcoran Scientific School.

Mr. Thompson was B. S. in 1902, M. E. in 1903, Corcoran Scientific School.

Mr. Brearley B. S. in 1902, and will take M. S. in 1905.

Mr. Hughes was B. S. in 1904. Mr. Summy is in the class of 1905.

College World

Several of our exchanges have commented very favorably on the "Give them the ax" yell.

The University of Kansas this year has an enrollment of fourteen hundred students, the largest that it has ever had.

At Williams' a chapel is built which will be the best in the country. The cost will be three hundred thousand dollars.

Dr. Daniel C. Gilman, President of the Carnegie Institution has tendered his resignation to the Board of Trustees. He will in the future devote himself entirely to literary work.

The University of Chicago has opened an evening school for the study of railway work, for clerks and railway officials who wish to study railroading from an economic view.

The tour of the Cornell Musical Club during the holiday will be the largest ever taken by them. Concerts will be given at different Eastern cities and the route covered will be over three thousand miles.

One of the old customs at the University of Minnesota is an annual spelling match between the Sophomores and Freshmen. It is conducted by the department of rhetoric, and a gold medal is awarded the winner.

The enrollment for the large universities this year is as follows:

Harvard 6,013; Columbia 4,557; Chicago 4,146; Northwestern 4,007; Michigan 3,726; California 3,690; Illinois 3,661; Minnesota 3,550; Cornell 3,438; Wisconsin, 3,221; Yale 2,990; Pennsylvania, 2,664; Syracuse 2,207; Leland Stanford 1,370; Princeton 1,383.

Dr. E. J. James, President of the Northwestern University in his last report to the trustees says the disappearance of men students from co-educational institutions in the Mississippi Valley may be only a matter of time. He quotes figures to prove his theory. These show that in four years the percentage of women at Northwestern has increased from 40 to 56.5.

At Lehigh the students have recently adopted an honor system. The pledge they take is as follows:

"We, the students of Lehigh University, do hereby pledge ourselves on our honor, to abstain from all fraud in university written recitations, quizzes and examinations and to take proper measures to prevent any infringement of this resolution."

The following comes to us from the Daily Nebraskan:

A member of the faculty of the Columbian Medical College at Washington is particularly fond of taking his students unawares in his "quizzes." To one student to whom it would not be uncharitable to call a dullard, the professor said one day:

"What quantity constitutes a dose of—," giving the technical name of croton oil.

"A teaspoonful," was the answer.

The instructor made no comment; and the student soon realized that he had made a mistake. After a quarter of an hour had elapsed, he said:

"Professor, I should like to change my reply to that question."

"I am afraid it's too late, Mr. Blank," responded the professor, looking at his watch. "Your patient has been dead fourteen minutes."
